CURRICULUM VITAE

I am a Full-stack Golang Developer and an independent and proactive out of the box thinker with the passion for designing and developing applications from the scratch. I have developed the ability to write code which are robust, high performance, bug-free and easy to maintain. My GitHub repository has nice collection of some of these Golang apps which I developed in past 2 years to showcase my coding skills. As a full-stack Golang developer, I worked on various web applications and microservices using best-practices in Golang.

Some of my main strengths are:

- Experience working with Relational, NoSQL and Embedded databases
- I am a good communicator, motivated, friendly, a multi-tasker and a result-oriented person
- Experience building applications with modern architecture design with RESTful web services / APIs
- Ability to make decisions and take responsibility for projects and tasks and willingness to learn and grow professionally in a team environment.
- Good communication and client-facing skills
- Passionate about using technology to solve interesting challenges.

SKILLS

GO PROJECTS

Kalimpong Broadband – KalimpongBroadband.com is a monolithic app, developed in Beego and it uses BoltDB for database. Its admin interface is available at “/admin” and it can be enabled or disabled using its app.conf file. It can scale horizontally in a kubernetes cluster without any special requirement except to have common storage for its database and images.
